McHenry County Announces New Public Property Search Viewer

WOODSTOCK, IL - The McHenry County GIS Department is pleased to announce the new version of its public property search viewer interactive map, “Athena”. Search capabilities include property boundaries information by a parcel number, address, or subdivision. Individuals will also have the ability to research comparable property for purposes related to property tax information. Other search information includes flood zone areas, topography, wetlands, and aerials.

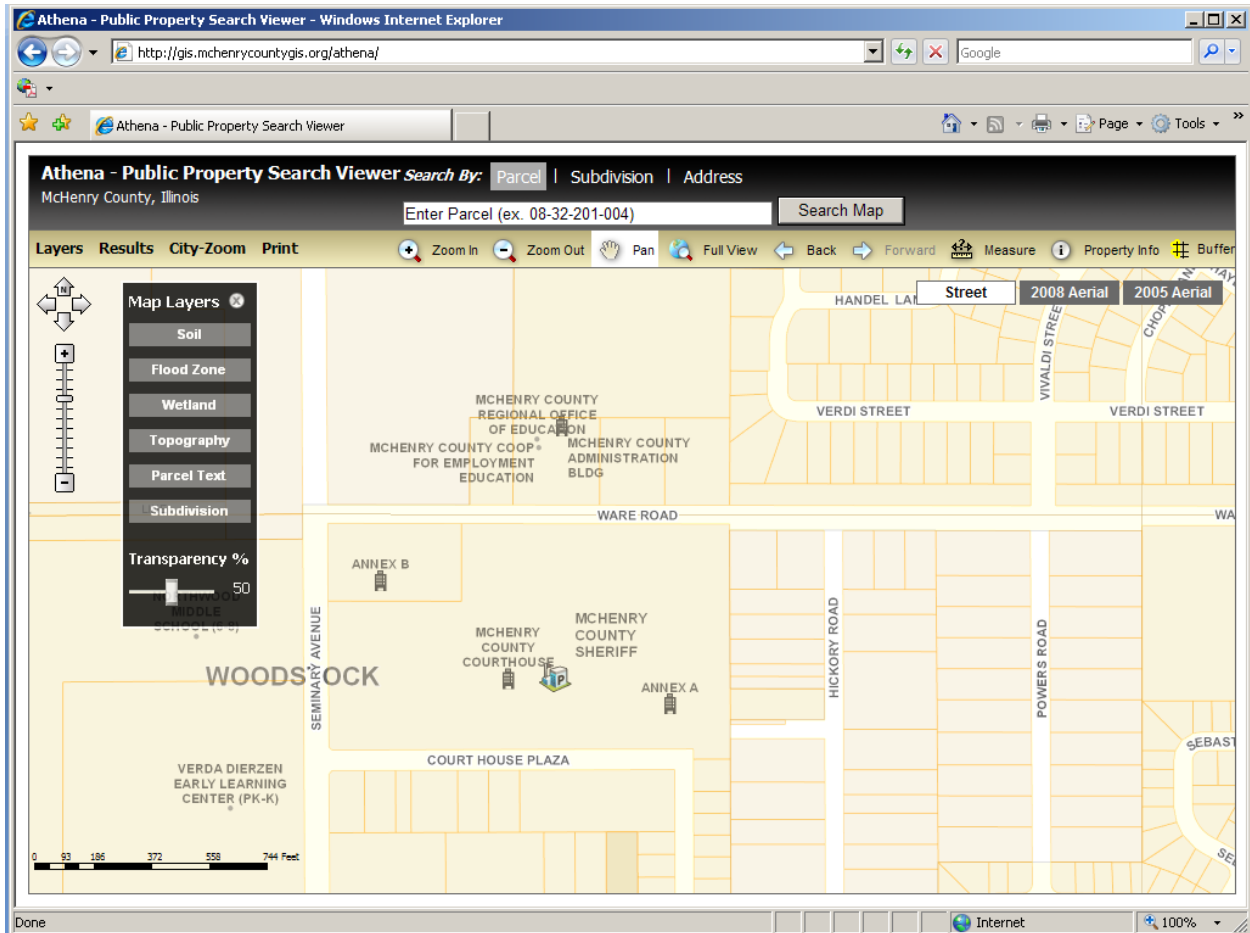

“Athena was developed as an information tool by taking multiple systems and combining them into one geographical interphase. This new search viewer will be a new useful tool to property owners, real estate agencies, title searchers, County departments for analysis purposes, and individuals looking to relocate to McHenry County,” stated McHenry County GIS Director Nicole Gattuso.
