McHenry County Seal Design Contest Extension

McHenry County has decided to extend the deadline for its seal design contest. The new seal design will be used on all County business, including signage and correspondence. The contest, which began July 1, will now conclude on November 5, 2008. This is an extension from the previous deadline of October 8, 2008

The new seal should be unique to the County and its abundant history and ample values. The contest is open to the public and everyone is encouraged to apply.

For contest rules, submission requirements, and an entry form, please visit the McHenry County website at www.co.mchenry.il.us and click on the link "McHenry County 2008 Seal Design Contest" under the Announcements and Events section.
